Aetheria Campus Map & Facilities Guide

The Aetheria Academy is not merely a building; it is a complex, semi-sentient architectural construct designed to channel and focus aetheric energy. Navigating the academy requires a basic understanding of its layout and the magical geometry that holds it together.

THE GRAND NEXUS

Located on the main floor, this is the heart of the academy.

- Architecture: The room is circular, supported by twelve massive pillars of raw quartz. The ceiling is synchronized with the planetary aether currents, displaying swirling auroras that change color based on the weather and ambient emotional energy of the student body.
- Function: This is where all meals, grand feasts, and daily mail deliveries via Courier-Sprites take place. The four long tables correspond to the four Quadrants.

QUADRANT SANCTUMS

The living quarters for students are deeply tied to the specific resonant frequencies of their houses.

- Ignis Sanctum: Located in the Upper Eastern Spire. It is warm, decorated in crimson and gold, and features massive fireplaces that never go out. Entry requires a complex kinetic knock on the brass door.
- Umbra Sanctum: Located in the Sub-level catacombs. It is cool, dimly lit with green luminescence, and decorated in silver and emerald. A password is required for the shifting stone door, which changes fortnightly.
- Aeris Sanctum: Located on the Western floating platforms. It is airy, filled with bookshelves, and decorated in bronze and blue. To enter, you must solve a logic puzzle projected in light on the main archway.
- Terra Sanctum: Located near the botany labs on the ground floor. It is earthy, filled with plants and comfortable yellow and black furnishings. Tap the central geode three times in the rhythm of the Earth's pulse to gain entry.

THE ARCHIVES

Located on the second floor, this vast library houses the collective knowledge of generations of Weavers.

- Rules: Archivist Vellum enforces strict silence. Attempting to cast a vocalization weave will result in immediate ejection.
- The Restricted Vault: At the back of the Archives lies the vault containing highly dangerous or experimental texts. It is out of bounds unless you have a high-clearance token signed by a teacher. Do not open the glowing tomes without protective eyewear, as the text can permanently burn itself into your retinas.

THE ECHO CHAMBER

Located on the seventh floor, this room is Aetheria's most mysterious facility.

- Function: The room is essentially a blank canvas of pure potential aether. Walk past the blank wall three times thinking of the exact tools and environment you require, and the aether will construct it for you.
- History: It was used as a secret training ground during the Void Incursions of the previous century.

THE BOTANICAL SPHERES

Located behind the main academy building, these massive glass domes simulate various climates.

- Dome 1: Temperate climate, housing standard medicinal herbs.
- Dome 2: Tropical climate, highly humid. Contains aggressive carnivorous plants. Do not enter without a partner.
- Dome 3: The Sub-Zero enclosure. Requires thermal-weaving to survive for more than ten minutes. Houses the rare Frost-Lily.

THE OBSERVATORY

Located at the very top of the Zenith Spire. Contains massive brass telescopes heavily infused with aether to pierce the atmospheric veil and view distant galaxies. This is where Astronomy and Celestial Mechanics are taught.

THE VOID WARDS

The invisible boundary that surrounds the academy grounds. It hums with a low frequency. Students are strictly forbidden from crossing the wards, as the land beyond is corrupted by Void Anomalies.
